

at the 2009 AIR Annual ForumCIRP USER'S GROUP

HERI staff will share the latest updates on the Cooperative Institutional Research Program (CIRP).

Campus representatives will discuss using CIRP findings on their own campuses.

lunch will be provided (rsvp to heri@ucla.edu)
Monday, 12:15-1:15 pm
M105 Marquis Level

MONDAY, JUNE 1Working Across International Boundaries: Using Student Surveys in Japan and the U.S.

John Pryor

Reiko Yamada (Doshisha University)

Monday, 10:15-11:00 am

International 1, International Level

CIRP User's Group

John Pryor, Linda DeAngelo, Serge Tran

Monday, 12:15-1:15 pm

M105, Marquis Level

"We Do Science Here": Underrepresented Racial Minority Students in Different College Contexts

Sylvia Hurtado, Minh Tran, Kevin Eagan,

Christopher Newman, Mitch Chang,

Paolo Velasco

Monday, 1:30-2:15 pm

International A, International Level

Assessing the Changing Professoriate: Different Campus Uses of the HERI Faculty Survey

Linda DeAngelo, John Pryor

Stephen Thorpe (Widener University)

Laura Palucki Blake (Agnes Scott College)

Monday, 4:00-5:00 pm

International 2, International Level

TUESDAY, JUNE 2Analyzing the Student Experience: Item Response Theory Analysis and the Development of CIRP Survey Factors

John Pryor, Linda DeAngelo, Jessica Sharkness

Tuesday, 8:45-9:30 am

International A, International Level

Using a Means and Covariance Structures (MACS) Analysis to Understand Multigroup Invariance of Factor Structures: A Recent Application of Structural Equation Modeling for Institutional Researchers

Raymond Barclay

Tuesday, 11:00-11:45 am

International C, International Level

The Climate for Diversity: Studying Student Perceptions and Experiences in the First Year of College

Sylvia Hurtado, Lucy Arellano, Marcela Cuellar,

Chelsea Wann, Cynthia Alvarez, Luz Collin

Tuesday, 1:15-2:00 pm

International C, International Level

The Innovative Use of the CIRP Surveys in a First-Year & Capstone Seminar Series

John Pryor

David Sul, Joyce Royce-Davis (University of the Pacific)

Tuesday, 1:15-2:00 pm

International 5, International Level

Oh, Won't You Stay: The Role of Stress, Satisfaction, and Productivity on Faculty Intent to Leave

John Ryan, Jason Sullivan, Rich Healy

(Ohio State University)

Tuesday, 1:15-2:00 pm

L506-L507, Lobby Level

Engagement Half-Life: The Impact of Incoming Student Characteristics Throughout the College Career

*Caroline Noyes, Joseph Ludlum,
Jonathan Gordon (Georgia Institute of Technology)*
Tuesday, 1:15-2:00 pm
L503, Lobby Level

Introduction to CIRP Surveys: The Freshman Survey, Your First College Year Survey, and the College Senior Survey

John Pryor, Linda DeAngelo
Tuesday, 2:15-3:00 pm
M106, Marquis Level

Thinking and Acting Like Scientists: Investigating the Outcomes of Introductory Science and Math Courses

Kevin Eagan, Jessica Sharkness, Sylvia Hurtado, Mitch Chang
Tuesday, 3:30-4:30 pm
L405, Lobby Level

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3

Fostering “Habits of Mind” in the First Year of College: Results from a National Study

Linda DeAngelo, Sylvia Hurtado
Wednesday, 8:00-8:45 am
International 4, International Level

The Decline in the Admission of Underrepresented Minority Students to Selective Public Institutions after the Implementation of Anti-Affirmative Action Legislation

Jacqueline Nagatsuka
University of Hawaii at Hilo
Wednesday, 8:00-8:45 am
International B, International Level

presentations authored by non-HERI staff

HERI is an AIR Silver Sponsor
Come see us in the Exhibit Hall

HERI announces three Summer Institutes for 2009:

The CIRP Summer Institute enhances your ability to use CIRP data for assessment, campus decision-making, or for your own research. Newly designed for 2009, participants in this year’s CSI will learn the conceptual framework of the three CIRP student surveys, findings from major areas of CIRP research, how to analyze their own CIRP data, and will be introduced to the new CIRP factors. The Institute is taught by expert instructors from the Higher Education Research Institute. Participants may register for one of two tracks, depending on SPSS familiarity. August 12-14.

The Diversity Research Institute provides a framework to assess the institutional climate for diversity, campus diversity practices, and student outcomes. Participants will engage in problem-solving around equity research methods and discuss critical policy analysis. Facilitated by nationally-known experts in diversity Sylvia Hurtado, Director of the Higher Education Research Institute, and Mitchell Chang, HERI Affiliated Scholar and Professor of Higher Education. August 6-7.

In the Research Methods for Critical Analysis of Quantitative Data Institute participants will learn to ask critical questions on equity issues and use techniques that have evolved to better understand inequities across the intersections of race, ethnicity, socioeconomic and immigration status, and institutional type. Institute directors are Sylvia Hurtado and Mitchell Chang. Two tracks are offered, one focused on multilevel modeling (instructor Marvin Titus) and the other on structural equation modeling (instructor Geoffrey Maruyama). July 1-3.

For more information, and how to register for these Institutes, please visit our website www.heri.ucla.edu

CIRP Survey Registration Open NOW:

Sign up for the 2009 TFS, 2010 YFCY & 2009-10 CSS & receive $100 off your registration fees.

Recently Published:

The American College Teacher: National Norms for 2007-2008
The American Freshman: National Norms for Fall 2008